RE: 54th Annual Towsontown Spring Festival, May 6 & May 7, 2023

Good Morning!

I am enclosing a registration form for the 2023 Towsontown Spring Festival including the rules and regulations for all vendors and Baltimore County displays. The Festival Committee is delighted to offer once again, free 10' x 14' spaces, for all Baltimore County departments to use for informational purposes. We believe our festival provides an opportunity for your department to distribute valuable information to the residents of Baltimore County.

However, since our event is growing each year and we typically turn away dozens of paying vendors, we only ask that you provide adequate staff on both days for the entire hours of the festival. Unfortunately, a number of departments chose not to occupy their areas for the full hours of the activities in previous years, consequently leaving large spaces in our streets. The festival hours are 10 a.m.-8 p.m. Saturday & 1-6 p.m. Sunday. Participation must include both days of the Festival. Displays must be manned both days. Failure to do so will force the Committee to reevaluate participation permission for 2024. Please keep that in mind when requesting volunteers for your space.

We are providing 10x10 foot pop-up tents again this year, for a fee. If you wish to rent a tent for $100 for the entire weekend, they will be installed at your space prior to your arrival on Saturday and removed on Sunday after you leave. Please include the fee with this application as we would prefer to give your agency top priority and all tents are sold early in the registration process. Tables and chairs are provided by Baltimore County Building Services - not the Festival Committee. If you request tables or chairs on the registration form, they will be delivered to your space by 8:00 a.m. Saturday and 11:00 am on Sunday by Baltimore County - not the Festival Committee.

If you have any special requests for reserving a space in a certain area, please contact our office at 410-825-1144 within the next week so we can accommodate your needs.

Finally, if your department plans to participate, please return the enclosed registration form to our office by February 17, 2023. We are looking forward to a very exciting festival and hope you will join us.

Sincerely yours,
